

KNIGHT KP1 MAG. P1M-209-50/SN 50 CAL, $640

Gun Tests grade: B+

We like the gun, particularly for its price, but the savvy shopper might want to wait until Knight figures out the breechplug array.

The KP1 was fun to shoot, offering moderate recoil and generally mild manners. The KP1 performed erratically with the 350-grain Hornady FBP bullets, but with Barnes TMZ 250 and Barnes TMZ 290 sabot bullets, it was a better story. Both bullets stayed well within 2-inch groups.

The two-piece camouflage-filmed plastic stock had metal sling eyes screwed in. The buttstock is finished off with a Kick-Eez pad that was well fitted.
